About Brewer-Clifton

Brewer-Clifton was founded in 1996 by Greg Brewer and Steve Clifton in the Sta. Rita Hills, a cool, windswept appellation in Santa Barbara County. It specialises in Pinot Noir and Chardonnay from vineyards in the appellation, including its own estate sites.

Greg Brewer is known for a restrained, fresh style, with Pinot Noir often fermented with whole clusters and Chardonnay made without heavy oak. The wines show the bright acidity and coastal character of the Sta. Rita Hills, and they helped build the appellation's reputation.

About 3D Chardonnay, Sta. Rita Hills

3D is one of Brewer-Clifton's estate vineyards in the Sta. Rita Hills, and its Chardonnay is a single-vineyard wine. It is made in the house's restrained style, without heavy new oak, giving a taut, mineral Chardonnay with citrus fruit and bright acidity. It drinks well young and can develop for several years.
