About Tedeschi

Tedeschi is a family winery in Pedemonte, in the heart of the Valpolicella Classica zone north of Verona. The family has made wine in the area for many generations and the business is now led by the siblings Antonietta, Sabrina and Riccardo Tedeschi.

The winery is best known for Amarone, made from grapes dried for several months before fermentation, and has invested in its own hillside vineyards and in research into the zone's soils and native varieties. Its wines are traditional in their use of Corvina, Corvinone, Rondinella and other local grapes, and are valued for their balance and their ability to age.
