About Graham's

W. & J. Graham's was founded in Oporto in 1820 by the brothers William and John Graham, Scottish textile merchants who, as the story goes, accepted Port in settlement of a debt and turned to the wine trade. Since 1970 it has been owned by the Symington family, who have been part of the Port trade for generations.

Graham's flagship property is the Quinta dos Malvedos in the Douro Valley, the backbone of its Vintage Ports, alongside other family quintas. The house style is rich, sweet and opulent, and its Vintage Ports are among the most consistently collected.

About the wine

Graham's Vintage Port is made only in declared years, from the best grapes of Quinta dos Malvedos and the family's other Douro quintas, traditionally trodden in stone lagares. Blended from Touriga Nacional, Touriga Franca and other Douro varieties, it is rich, dense and sweeter in style than many of its peers. Vintage Port needs decades to show its best, and great vintages develop for half a century or more.
