About Penfolds

Penfolds was founded in 1844 by Dr Christopher Rawson Penfold and his wife Mary at Magill, on the edge of Adelaide, where the original Magill Estate vineyard still survives. It grew into one of Australia's largest and best-known wine companies and is now owned by Treasury Wine Estates.

Its reputation for fine wine rests on Grange, created by chief winemaker Max Schubert in the early 1950s, and on a range of numbered 'Bin' wines. Penfolds blends across vineyards and regions in search of a consistent house style, typically ripe and concentrated, often matured in American oak. Its top red wines are long-lived and have an established secondary market.

About Bin 7 Cabernet Sauvignon Shiraz, South Australia

Bin 7 belongs to Penfolds' series of Special Bin wines, small experimental or exceptional releases made only when the winemakers judged a particular parcel worthy of separate bottling. It is a blend of Cabernet Sauvignon and Shiraz, the classic Australian combination that Penfolds has long championed. These rare older Special Bins are concentrated, structured wines that have shown remarkable longevity.
