About Graham's

W. & J. Graham's was founded in Oporto in 1820 by the brothers William and John Graham, Scottish textile merchants who, as the story goes, accepted Port in settlement of a debt and turned to the wine trade. Since 1970 it has been owned by the Symington family, who have been part of the Port trade for generations.

Graham's flagship property is the Quinta dos Malvedos in the Douro Valley, the backbone of its Vintage Ports, alongside other family quintas. The house style is rich, sweet and opulent, and its Vintage Ports are among the most consistently collected.

About Ne Oublie

Ne Oublie, the Graham family motto, is the name of an exceptionally rare very old tawny Port from casks laid down in 1882, the year Andrew James Symington arrived in Portugal. Kept in wood for well over a century, it is intense and concentrated, with dried fruit, nuts, spice and polished wood, kept vivid by high acidity. It was released in very small quantities in a numbered decanter.
