About Robert Mondavi Winery

Robert Mondavi founded his winery in Oakville in 1966, the first major winery built in the Napa Valley since Prohibition. Its mission-style building became a landmark, and Mondavi became one of the most influential figures in American wine, championing quality, wine with food and partnerships such as Opus One with Baron Philippe de Rothschild.

The winery's heart is the historic To Kalon vineyard in Oakville, the source of its finest Cabernet Sauvignon. Since 2004 it has been owned by Constellation Brands. Its Reserve wines remain a reference point in the history of Napa.

About Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon, Napa Valley

Robert Mondavi's Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon is the winery's flagship, drawn largely from the To Kalon vineyard in Oakville. Cabernet Sauvignon with small amounts of other Bordeaux varieties, aged in French oak, it is rich and structured, with cassis, cedar, mint and spice. Built for ageing, it typically needs a decade in bottle, and good vintages develop for twenty-five years or more.
